A Awood and J. W. Atwood of Wauffers and Mr. Kelley were present.

A regular meeting of the town school board was held in the selectmen's office at the town building, Wednesday evening. All except Mr. Dion and Mr. Kelley were present.

The first matter taken up was that of substitute teachers at Natchaug school. Mrs. Robert Rose and Mrs. William Magel caught her hand in a roll at Aspinook bleacher this week. She was taken to Dr. J. Principal J. L. Harroun had notified several members of the board that the school was crowded. In the first grade there are 46 children, in the section 42, in the third 49 and in the eighth 50. He recommended that more tachers be secured to take care of the extra work. He thought that there about ten children in the eighth grade who would not probably graduate but if an extra teacher was secured to assist Miss Jacobs and so some of the office work, probably at least four of these ten would graduate because of the extra attention.

In the Natchaug school, another room, it needed and Principal Harroun told a member of the Board that this room could be made by partition—in the Natchaug school, another room, it needed and Principal Harroun told a member of the Board that this room could be made by partition—in the Natchaug school, another room, it needed and Principal Harroun told a member of the Board that this room could be made by partition—in of solve with the building and repairs committee with power.

Superintendent Case called the board's attention to the fact that a little child named Carcio, who, a arried her to and from school has left for college. The child goes to the parothal school but will change if any way can be made to provide for her transportation. The matter was left with the transportation committee to investigate and report at a future to investigate and report at a futu

Supt, John A. Chapman Points Out How Pupils Can be Patriotic-Local Representatives at Quinebaug

Thursday morning in the High school building, Supt. John L. Chapman addressed the students on Patriotism. A letter from the Woman's Council of Defense in Connecticut was read and its contents commented on. It is this patriotism for students to keep up their school work and prekeep up their school work and prepare themselves for work in later life.
The duty of every student is to study conscientiously and when doing so,
think that every effort is patriotic.
